VOL. XXIII.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, MAY 28, 1895.

NO. 26

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

—The Casey County Medical Association held its regular monthly meeting here on Thursday, 23d, Dr. I. S. Wesley in the chair, and Dr. W. L. Lowder, secretary. There has been a growing interest in this association since its first organization here some two years ago. Among the professionals from other counties were: Drs. H. Brown and Bertie Carpenter from Hustonville, Drs. J. G. Carpenter and R. L. Davison, of Stanford, and Dr. Cyrus Wesley from Science Hill. The association was called to order by the chairman in the county court-room about 10:30 a. m. The first subject on the program was a paper prepared and read by Dr. J. C. Barker, of Dunmore, entitled, Pulmonary Tuberculosis. The subject being announced open for discussion, further views were given upon the disease by Drs. Isaiah Wesley, of Middleburg, H. Brown, of Hustonville, the chairman, also Dr. Carpenter, of Stanford. The general opinion seemed to prevail that the disease was due more to acquirement than hereditary taint, and that the best way to treat it was by hygienic methods to prevent its acquisition and propagation. Dr. Brown related three noted cases treated successfully by his favorite remedy, fresh air. Dr. Barker now by permission introduced a patient of his, an 18 year old boy, for examination by the association. The boy had been hurt three years ago in a wrestling match, and not having his crippled leg attended to by a physician, and being of an active disposition, has had it hurt over so much that it is now difficult to give a proper diagnosis of the case without the use of the knife. The case was discussed by Drs. Garner, Haney, Isaiah Wesley, Carpenter, McRoberts, Taylor, Barker, Cyrus Wesley and others. In the afternoon the association met early. Dr. Bertie Carpenter very distinctly and with fine expression read a paper entitled, The Importance of a Thorough Knowledge of Pathology. Drs. Danham, Carpenter, Davison, the chairman, Cyrus Wesley, Barker, Haney, McRoberts and others complimented Miss Carpenter for her effort and welcomed her to the profession. Dr. Bertie Carpenter in a few well chosen words returned thanks for the way her paper was received.

Dr. Brown addressed the association, taking a wide range on the importance and dignity of the profession, its duties and the importance of keeping well up with its advancement. Drs. Garner, J. G. Carpenter, R. L. Davison, Cyrus Wesley and Haney followed in the same strains and also on the advantages of attending medical societies. Dr. R. L. Davison read a paper on the Relation that should exist between the Doctor and Dentist, the substance of which was, that there should be close association between the physician and dentist, and that the dentist should understand the general knowledge of medicine. The association endorsed Dr. Davison's views. Dr. Carpenter now exhibited some photographs views and some specimens preserved in alcohol. It being the time for the annual election of officers of the association, on motion of Dr. Brown, Dr. I. S. Wesley as chairman, and W. L. Lowder as secretary, were both continued in office for the ensuing year.

The committee on program made the following report for the next meeting to be held in the county court-room at this place on the 4th Thursday June:

Gastro Intestinal Catarrh—paper—Dr. I. S. Wesley. Abortion and its Treatment—P. S. Humphrey.

On motion, Dr. Bertie Carpenter was requested to read a paper before the society at its next meeting, the subject to be of her own selection.

On motion, the society returned thanks to the visiting members, Drs. H. Brown, Miss Bertie Carpenter, J. G. Carpenter, R. L. Davison and Cyrus Wesley for their attendance and interest taken in its deliberations.

On motion, the society adjourned to meet here, the 4th Thursday in June.

A new democrat came to the house of Geo. A. Haynes, on the night of the 23d, weighing 11lbs. He is proud of the acquisition to his party, and named him Wayne, in honor of his native county and also a brother.

Miller, who has just moved his family here from Barbourville, has a very sick baby. Mrs. John Elmiston is still slowly sinking. Her daughter, Mrs. Ed. M. Estee, was called to her home at McKinney on account of the sudden death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Florence Givens.

—With cattle on a 1,000 hills, higher than for years, with prospects of big crops of corn, and wheat bringing prices undreamed of a few months ago, with beautiful green pastures, producing gold in the form of hay, fat cattle and fine horses, the farmers of Kentucky are laughing at calamity howlers, Blackbarn and Hardin, telling them in tearful tones of their abject poverty and its cause.

—Louisville Post.

—In 81 years, up to 1873, we coined something over eight millions of silver dollars. In the 22 years since then we have coined over 400 million silver dollars. The so-called demonetization and assassination has had the same effect on silver dollars that cat fights have on cats.

—A man named Crocker, his wife and his son, were murdered on the open prairie near Wharton, Tex. It is supposed that the murderers were members of a mob who had lost three of their number at the hands of the Crocker family.

—Mr. Carlisle said at Bowling Green to a newspaper interviewer: "I have no ambition to be president, nor expectation of it; nor do I see why any man should be ambitious to be president; it is a slave's life."

He tried many so called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c. (For large bottles. At A. R. —The wheat crop in the county is very promising. The prospects are for an abundant yield; exceeding the former crop. Mr. Henry Hurt, of Point Leavel, expects to have 2,300 bushels of wheat from 105 acre field. Other farmers will realize a like proportion of results for their labors, if the season continues propitious.

—The Garrard politicians and voters stand in rank with their contigious friends and neighbors on the silver question. The leading financiers and citizens uphold a sound currency and would not be inclined to repudiate obligations by paying them off with cheap money.

—A Mr. Chapel near McCreary went to Nebraska over a year ago, and thought he had found a paradise there, as everything looked so luxuriant and lovely. One day he had 80 acres of the finest corn he had ever seen, but the next day the South winds came and destroyed it literally; so he returned to Kentucky and bought his old farm back, but recently a waterpout struck it and washed the soil badly. It seems from this he has been a victim of misfortune.

—It is fully recognized and demonstrated that good roads and turnpikes have much to do with the material prosperity of the country; the value of the land per acre is higher, and there are to be found the most desirable immigrants. The free turnpike question is causing much discussion in this county at present. There are very ardent advocates both for and against free turnpikes, but already Garrard has fairly good roads with 105 miles of pike; her net revenue is $2,890.

McRoberts, Sunday. C. C. Herring, of Louisville, was visiting his uncle, Dr. H. C. Herring, and family last week. E. W. Arnold left Saturday night for Louisville, where he is attending Bryant & Stratton's Business College. Prof. S. M. Cheek, of Danville, was in our city Sunday. —A silver convention has been called at Memphis as an offset to the sound money meeting.

—The United Confederate veterans have chosen June 3 as Confederate memorial day.

Yes, verily, girls are of few days and full of mischief and whoseever is deceived thereby is not wise. When the fair one cheweth her gum with much haste and stampeth her pretty foot with much vigor, then beware. She eateth all winter of the devoted young man's oysters and partaketh with glee of his sleigh rides, but when the gentle spring cometh she winketh the other eye and goeth with the new beau. —Ex.

A Quarter Century Test.
For a quarter of a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been tested and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. It is admitted to be the most reliable for Coughs and Colds. Trial bottles free at A. R. Penny's drug store. Large size 50c and $1.

MILLARD F. NORTH.

The above is not an extra good picture of the democratic candidate for the Legislature, but will serve to fairly represent him. Millard F. North first saw the light in the mountains of Bell county. The event occurred January 25, 1855, and at an early age, the youngster developed a fondness for books and girls, especially the latter, as you will agree, when it is told that shortly after celebrating his 16th birthday he was married to Miss Mary J. Rentfrow, one year his senior. The marriage, contrary to the usual run of those contracted so early in life, proved a very happy one. The young man realized that he had gotten into very serious business and he buckled himself down to work. In his spare hours he read law and was in due time admitted to the bar at Pineville, where he lived for some time, and then bought the farm of J. J. Drye near Mt. Salem in this county and moved to it. He has been with us seven years and those who know him best have ought but good to say of him.

Besides being a good democrat and a man of brains and ability, Mr. North has obeyed the injunctions of Scripture in one particular, as well as doubtless in many others. He has done his part towards increasing and multiplying the inhabitants of earth, as nine children, who call him papa attest. We do not agree with him on the free turnpike business, but he is so sound on other questions that we can give him cordial support and trust that every democrat will do likewise. He is the party's nominee and every member of it owes it to himself as well as democracy to cast his ballot for him. We hope and believe that the good people of Lincoln will commission Mr. North to represent them in the next General Assembly and by such a vote as will show the republicans that there is life in the old party yet.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Francis Downman, aged 74, and Mrs. Martha Palmer, 86, were married at Woodfield, O.

—John Smith, of Peru, Ind., killed himself when he found his wife kissing his younger brother.

—Miss Minnie Tower hanged herself at Oakland City, Ind., because her parents refused to let her marry.

—It was Mrs. Charlotte Green and not Givens, who was married last week to Mr. A. B. McKinney. The lady was originally a Givens and the types and typos are to some extent excusable for the error.

—Miss Anna Gagneau, one of the most popular teachers in the public schools at Lexington, has just made it known that she has been secretly married for more than a year to Gilbert Parker. Her reason for keeping it a secret was that only single ladies can teach in the Lexington city schools.

—The great fire last week which almost destroyed the city of St. Albans, Vt. was started in a peculiar way. A young woman was heating a curling iron over a kerosene lamp; the iron struck the lamp, which exploded and spread flames until the city was nearly all laid in ashes.

—At the door of the Presbyterian church in Troy in Woodford, Sunday, two brothers-in-law met in deadly encounter. Archibald Riley was killed and his antagonist, George B. Montgomery, was fatally wounded. Riley had wronged and deserted Montgomery's sister.

JAMES FRYE, Hustonville, Ky.

W. P. WALTON.

THE sound money convention at Memphis was attended by thousands of business men from all parts of the South and the result must have a decided effect on stemming the wild tide of those who would upset the money standards and bring disaster and ruin upon the country. Gen. Catchings, of Mississippi, presided and resolutions were adopted demanding a sound currency, based on gold, and favoring bimetalism only on the basis of international agreement. Secretary Carlisle was in fine condition and never appeared to better advantage than when he faced the vast assembly and delivered his masterly address against the wild schemes of the free silver men, who would revolutionize our monetary system and thus destroy the credit of the government and the people at home and abroad, violate the obligations of all contracts, unsettle all exchangeable values, reduce the wages of labor, expel capital from our country and seriously obstruct the trade of our people among themselves and with the people of other countries. Mr. Carlisle clearly showed that while we now have practical bimetalism, the so-called effort to that end would result in the loss of all the gold in circulation and the reduction of the purchasing power of the remaining money one half. No nation has ever succeeded in the attempt to keep gold and silver in concurrent circulation, the result being always a gold or silver monometallism. Instead of having more money than we now have in circulation we should have less under a free silver coinage law and that would be of such a depreciated and fluctuating quality that producers would suffer irretrievably. The fall in the price of silver he shows has nothing to do with fall of prices of other commodities and he proved the utter falsity of the claims of the inflationists that all our woes are due to the crime perpetrated upon the white metal. His argument against the benefits of cheap money to the debtor class, as advanced by the silver men, were based on observation and sense and completely demonstrated the insincerity of such claims. No man, unless he is so wedded to his idol as to be impervious to reasoning and practical, every day common sense, can fail to see the fallacy of his own position and if he be a true man acknowledge his error. The Memphis convention has raised strong hopes that the folly, fanaticism and disaster, which threatens the country may be averted and that right, equity and justice to all classes will finally prevail.

GREAT BRITAIN, India and all the other countries over which good Queen Victoria reigns are celebrating her 76th birthday, which occurred last Friday. Few rulers have been permitted to live so long and fewer still have retained to so remarkable a degree, the love and respect of her subjects, as the queen of England and the empress of India. She was crowned at the age of 18, June 20th, 1837, on the death of her father, King William IV, and at once gave evidence of the strength of character and honesty of purpose that has always characterized her. Long may she live!

BLACKBURN drew first blood in a contest with Gov. McCreary in his neighboring county of Jessamine. R. S. Perry, an avowed follower of the free silver apostle, defeated for the Legislative nomination, Jos. Wallace, who ran in the interest of Gov. McCreary, by a majority of 24. Disappointed office seekers are at the bottom of the work, though considering the fact that Mr. Wallace is a plain farmer, who never sought political preferment before, and that Perry had been county clerk for 18 years and knew all the points in wire working, his race was a remarkable one.

THERE was an affecting scene at the Confederate re-union at Houston, Texas, when ex-Gov. Lubbock told of taking Little Winnie Davis in his arms to see her father, Jefferson Davis, while he was in prison at Fort Monroe. Miss Winnie was present and she rushed into the arms of the old man and together they wept, while many an old eye, which witnessed the scene, grew moist and dim. "The Daughter of the Confederacy," as she is called, is the pride of the old soldiers and she was the recipient of many marked attentions during the re-union.

A MAN died in Henderson, Friday, Mr. S. S. Siak, who deserves, if what is said of him be true, to have several extra stars in his crown, and a high-up seat in heaven for his self denials here. It is told of him that he had never been known to use an oath, tobacco in any form or to touch intoxicating liquors. He might have found happiness in virtue, but he didn't have much fun in this world, as the average idea of fun goes.

THE Louisville grand jury refused to indict Fulton Gordon in either case and the deplorable tragedy will not be further aired in the courts. It is well and it would be better could it be wiped entirely out of memory, except in so far as the terrible sequel might deter other weak men and women from straying from the narrow path to suffer in the end ignominy and death.

SENATOR BLACKBURN made a miserable failure at Lawrenceburg in his attempt to answer Secretary Carlisle. He devoted most of his time in trying to convict the secretary of inconsistency and a change of front, but it is not in the great "cave of winds" or any other man, for that matter, to controvert the facts that the secretary presents. Mr. Blackburn is desperate. He sees the handwriting on the wall and utters this to keep his courage up: "I am greatly handicapped, but let Messrs. Cleveland, Carlisle and all the rest take the stump, and I will win this race in spite of the whole combination."

Down in the rural regions of Texas the other day, the hayseeds who had heard about the free silver business, met and appointed the local preacher a committee of one to receive the sum allotted to that community and make an equal division. This sounds absurd, but it is said to be absolutely true, and we believe it, since about half of those who favor free silver have the same idea that they are going to get something for nothing.

THE free silverites are said to be planning to establish a paper at Louisville to do their talking, with Urey Woodson, J. M. Richardson and Harry Sommers editors. They claim to have plenty of money to back the enterprise, but we take it that unless they are lunatics on every question as well as that of free silver they will not throw it to the birds that way, but remember that "man's a vapor fall of woes, starts a paper, up he goes."

MICHIGAN has passed an anti-treating law. As people never treat in that section of the country, we can not see the necessity of its passage, but it might go in Kentucky, where the propensity to be social is very pronounced. It is a foolish custom, this treating is, all the same, and many a man with little power to resist has been made drunk by having whiskey forced down him, when he would rebel if bread was so crammed.

How has the mighty fallen! Oscar Wilde, the aesthetic, "the glass of fashion and the mould of form, the observed of all observers," of a certain class, in prison garb and doing time for a crime too hideous to be mentioned! Truly it can be said of him that while he lived he lived in clover and when he died he died all over. Once the pride of sycophants, now there are none so poor as to do him reverence!

THE news comes that the Watts steel plant at Middlesboro is to be started some more. People, who have interests there are, however, are tiring of this too oft holding of the bow of promise to the ear to be broken to the heart, and will not believe that such a thing as a revival of business in the ex-magic city, is possible or probable till they have ocular demonstration of it.

AUTHORITIES on palmistry say that women with long thumbs always do their best to have their own way. Our observation, as well as experience, is that that peculiarity is not confined to any particular class of women. They are nearly all built that way, whether their thumbs be elongated or circumscribed in length.

OUR Liberty reporter devotes considerable space to a notice of the doctors' meeting there, which we publish by special request, apologizing to the doctors, who as a general thing have a horror of seeing their names in print, if it costs anything.

IT is not yet decided whether the Commencement sermon by Rev. W. E. Ellis will be delivered at the Christian church or Walton's Meeting House, but due notice will be given. As is customary there will be no other services in town that morning at that hour.

"THERE are now two trains and a stage to Lancaster daily, for those who wish conveyance thither," we remarked to a former citizen of that place. A SOUND money man offered to buy a free silver crank's farm the other day, to be paid for in silver, both in the cash and deferred payments, but he showed his inconsistency by declining. He knew if a free coinage bill passes, silver dollars will be worth only 50 cents.

MISS KATE BLAIN, who is now snugly ensconced in her new office, asks us to say to those who desire to teach that there will be an examination for white teachers June 7 and 8 and for colored June 14 and 15. The examiners are H. S. Young and Charles H. Holmes.

STRAWBERRIES.—Mr. Thomas F. Johnson, of Kingsville, sent us a basket of strawberries by his father, Mr. J. L. Johnson, Saturday, which beat anything in size we have seen. It only took about 25 of them to make a quart and they were delicious as they were large. He sold several bushels to Higgins & McKinney at $4 a bushel and those gentlemen will handle all his crop.

THE NEW Supt.—Miss Kate Blain passed the requisite examination without a mistake and qualified as school superintendent. The salary is $800 a year at the pleasure of the fiscal court and she will hold the office till her successor is elected in November and qualifies. There is not a more worthy young lady in Lincoln county than Miss Blain and in appointing her, Judge Davison shows that he is a man of unusual sagacity.

"HAVE you noticed that utter dejection, that deserted banquet hall look that now beclouds the erstwhile handsome features of Mr. W. A. Tribble?" "Yes. What is the matter? Has he lost a friend?" "Nay, verily." "Sweetheart gone back on him?" "Nothing of the kind." "Then tell me the cause." "Miss Kate Malloy has gone to Versailles and as his heart went with her, he is inconsolable."

AT midnight Saturday, Marshal Newland attempted to arrest a couple of negroes who were behaving disorderly. One of them resisted and he felled him with his "billy." The other looked like he was trying to draw his pistol and the officer went for him. It was very dark and both succeeded in getting away. Next day it was learned that the negro who got it in the head is named John Burnside and that both are from Lancaster. They had taken Mrs. Humber's horses to ride over here.

PUTS UP ITS SHUTTERS.—Rather than let it die a lingering death, the members of the Christian Endeavor Society, which for some time had been "growing smaller by degrees and beautifully less," voted, on motion of Mr. P. M. McRoberts, last Sunday afternoon to dismiss sine die. The last meeting was one of the best, however. Miss Margaret Hughes presided very gracefully and among the features were a duet by Miss Mary Cowen and Rev. S. M. Logan, "Oh, Savior, Precious Savior," and a solo of Miss Cowen, "Abide With Me." Both were beautifully rendered and greatly enjoyed. The society was organized two years ago this Fall on the suggestion of Miss Lucy Johns, then music teacher at the college, and she was its first president. It has lasted remarkably and been the source of both pleasure and profit.

THEY do say that young Johnson, who is holding a Sanctification meeting at Gosben, is fairly "setting the woods a fire." Everybody is getting it.

MISS BETTIE THURMOND, who has just closed her school, desires it said that while all her scholars generally did well, Edwin Jones, John Lasley, James Phillips and John Jones excelled in scholarship.

A METHODIST preacher, who is holding forth at Rowland, is said to out do Sam Jones in plainness of speech. He refers to his hearers as "Jackasses" and applies other equally as expressive appellations to them.

WITH her annual remittance for "the dear old home paper," Mrs. Lettie Lee Rochester Gadgell writes from Independence: Our Missouri season is quite advanced. Home grown fried chicken, peas, strawberries for two weeks, and cherries and currants are nearly ripe. We are charmed out here—Independence is a real Southern town, but we can never forget the old town and friends.

HOW is THIS?—For legal legerdemain, the Pulaski courts and attorneys are peculiar, if the half that Constable Benedict reports be true. He went there to bring the negro back, who stole Mr. J. P. Ballard's horse, but that shrewd young lawyer, Mr. W. A. Morrow, assisted by a negro attorney, succeeded in inducing the city court to believe that there was no charge against him and he was discharged. Mr. Benedict then swore out a warrant against the negro charging him with the theft of the saddle and was bringing him back to Lincoln on foot, for trial, when the sheriff intercepted him with a habeas corpus writ. The constable returned with his prisoner to Somerset, when Mr. Morrow demanded a trial, got it and had the negro given 30 days in jail for stealing the saddle. Mr. Benedict then tried to bring the horse home, but Mr. Morrow claimed that the negro had given it to him to defend him and so the officer returned with nothing but an old saddle worth perhaps a dollar or two. Mr. Ballard has brought suit to recover his horse against the lawyer and the liveryman and he will see whether or not Pulaski has laws peculiar to herself, or lawyers who make the laws to keep their clients from suffering the penalties of their crimes.

SKULL CRUSHED.—While covering Mr. John M. White's roof Friday, Mr. Chas. M. Stanwood, a tinner engaged with C. W. Chesnut, of Danville, fell to the ground, a distance of 30 feet, his head striking the brick pavement around a cistern and fracturing his skull. Dr. O'Bannon, of this place, and Drs. Cowan & Cowan and Dunlap, of Danville, were sent for and after examination and consultation decided that the patient was not in condition to be operated on and postponed it. Mr. Stanwood is in a critical condition and the chances are largely against his recovery. He is a splendid young man, an active member of the order of Knights of Pythias, an Odd Fellow, a Methodist and a member of the Y. M. C. A. His wife, mother and only sister are grateful for the loving kindness and tender care shown him by the members of the Danville and Stanford K. P. lodges, the entire family of Mr. White and the neighborhood generally. A member of the Danville lodge, who has had 40 years' experience in the sick room, says that Miss Pearl White is the best untrained nurse in the world. A reporter of this paper testifies similarly.

AS we go to press we learn that Mr. Stanwood, strange as it may be, has regained consciousness and is doing well.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—Mrs. J. K. McClary died at Mt. Vernon Sunday after a long illness. Eighteen months ago Dr. Peyton relieved her of an ovarian tumor weighing 55 pounds. She rallied quickly and for over a year was able to attend to her household, but she was taken with abscesses and one after another finally ceased her vitals. She was about 43 years old and a daughter of Judge Cook, and all who knew her speak in terms of the highest praise.

—The sudden death of Mrs. James Walker Givens, which occurred Thursday afternoon, shocked the section in which she was held in such deservedly high esteem as well as here where she was well-known. For some time past she had been subject to "smothering spells." She had one Thursday afternoon and was laid on a bed. She fell asleep shortly and Mr. Givens was sent for. When he arrived she was dying and although she appeared to recognize him could not speak. In about an hour after the attack she was dead. Mrs. Givens was Miss Florence Estes, daughter of the late Dr. B. P. Estes, of McKinney, and was a most excellent lady. She was a graduate of the College here, where she lived a number of years and made many lasting friends. A little over a year ago, she married Mr. Givens, who suffers a loss that only those who have similarly suffered can understand, and only those fully sympathize. Mrs. Givens was a life long member of the Baptist church and a true and devoted Christian. May those who upon whom her loss falls heaviest find consolation in reliance upon the God she loved.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The Methodist church has had its annual spring cleaning and repairing and now looks as neat as a new pin.

—The Northern Presbyterian Assembly adopted resolutions favoring total abstinence for the individual and abolition of the whisky traffic.

—The corner stone of the new Bible college at Lexington was laid Saturday with short but impressive ceremonies. The building is to cost $25,000.

—The first colored Catholic church in the South was dedicated last week at New Orleans, La. The church owes its foundation to Mother Katherine Drexel. The colored Catholics of the diocese number 75,000.

—At the Christian Endeavor Convention at Louisville it was shown that there are 289 societies in the State with 12,250 members, an increase of 3,000 during the year. Paducah was chosen as the next place of meeting.

—After a long consideration of the subject the Cumberland Presbyterian General Assembly has decided that women cannot be ordained to preach in that church. In doing so the Scriptural command is simply complied with.

—The Rev. Dr. Charles R. Hemphill, of Louisville, was appointed by the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly at Dallas, chairman of a delegation to attend the Presbyterian Council of Reform churches at Glasgow, Scotland, in June.

—We have it pretty straight that the editor of this paper was "terribly handled" in a sermon at Junction City by one J. W. Hughes, of Wilmore, whose acquaintance we do not even enjoy. The point of our offending lies, we suppose, in some strictures made from time to time on sanctification and the preachers of it. It is immaterial what Bro. Hughes, or any other clerical cuss for that matter says of us, but we would suggest that this one at least is gnawing a file. He'd better preach Christ and him crucified or he may have to flee to the mountains of Hepsidam, and mourn with the whang-doodle for its first born.
